Cuttack Road, Bhubaneswar (Odisha) India

Although the encounters with her father were often brief, they were intense. He treated her as an equal, marveling at her intelligence and encouraging her in her studies. From early on, she identified with his traumas and triumphs as if they were her own. Sforza children, girls included, Caterina was taught swordsmanship and went rigorous physical training. As part of this side of the family, she go on hunting expeditions with the family in the north. She was trained to hunt and kill wild boars, stags, and lions. During her excursions she would watch her father with awe. He was riding with such impetuosity, as if nothing could stop him. When riding on the largest animals, he showed no fear. He was a consummate hunter—think ahead, plot every
